LEADERSHIP STARTS WITHIN AND EMINATES

7 Leadership Qualities That Make for an Awesome Healy Leader

These are the qualities I am looking for in The collective - I wrote these 5 years ago for my own personal use. My guide posts as I've built my multiple businesses from a place of soul and higher vision. Does this sound like you?

1 FIRM FOUNDATION

root chakra - earth element

Our energetic vibration attracts others with a similar frequency. This is how we build a strong foundation behind an idea. Our foundation is built off of knowing what is true to us. You know (and actively work on) being convicted in:

- 1) What you believe in
 - 2) Your values
 - 3) Your priorities
 - 4) Your mission (your why)

2 COMMITMENT TO HEALING

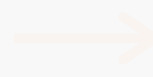

sacral chakra - water element

Our outer world is a direct reflection of our inner world. By connecting inward we are able to operate our business, lead, and grow from a place that is beyond our ego. You are interested in helping others from a place of overflow. You know that by serving yourself first you can serve others best. You aren't interested in a get rich quick scheme or hustle culture that will leave you burnt out. You know that working on your frequency will help you become magnetic and abundant.

3 PASSIONATE CREATOR

solar plexus chakra - fire element

You know that being empowered by a deep seated why will generate self motivation and excitement to create. You are lit up by big ideas and potential for not only yourself, but everyone who will come in contact with you. You have a desire to see other people win and want to hold space for their fire to burn brightly. You know that applied effort generates powerful shift and you are committed to staying the course by letting your "why" fuel you.

4 LOVING CANDOR heart chakra - air element

You know that being a leader means that you will have to hold space for others to experience their potential. You are tuned into when to talk and when to listen. When to pause and when to be all in. You are willing to go deep and support people to expand, but you honor your boundaries and do not overextend yourself.

5 CLEAR EXPECTATIONS throat chakra - ether

Frequency is the energy behind the words. Not the words themselves. You have the ability to articulate with clarity:

- 1) What you are willing to do & not (loving boundaries)
 - 2) You are consistent with how you interact and show up
 - 3) Guide people to resources and help hold them accountable

6 HIGH VISIONS third eye chakra - ether

You have the ability to see beyond the present moment. You are a big picture thinker and dreamer. You set your sights high, yet allow yourself to let go and come back to the present to apply your effort one foot in front of the other.

7 INNER CIRCLE crown chakra - ether

You surround yourself with people who are highly conscious and interested in expanding, creating, and elevating the vibration on the planet. You have the confidence to speak at the highest truth you have in order to magnetize the people around you to support the vision of getting health and wealth into the hands of people interested in supporting humanity.

freedom is here

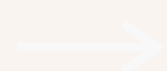

How it works

Healy is sold via affiliate/network marketing. The buy in to the community support is a Healy. There are no hidden monthly opt ins or additional things you have to buy to stay active, which is VERY unique to this style of business.

Customer Sales – When you share Healy devices with Customer and Members, you earn a percent bonus on their purchases.

Team Building – As you share Healy products, prospective individuals may want to join your team and build Healy World businesses of their own. As your team grows, you can earn monthly cash bonuses and credits as well as earn a percentage on the devices and subscriptions sold by your team members.

Leadership Rewards – By growing your team and nurturing their development, you can become a leader and earn a match on the earnings of the leaders below you. As they succeed, you succeed!

The Income Stream I have created in about 4 months has:

- Given me the freedom to work from anywhere (travel is a passion)
- Spend more time with my kids and be present for their needs
- Free me from being strapped to 1:1 clients only
- In just one week of my Healy paycheck during my 4th month I was able to take my family of 4 on a luxury 5 day ski trip in Keystone
- Begin the growth of an inspiring team based business with women all across the world!
